With the holiday season just around the corner, it's time to stock up on the coziest apparel and footwear to keep yourself warm and comfortable for fall and winter. Champion has just unveiled its new "University" slippers inspired by the iconic Reverse Weave hoodies which are going to be your next winter essential once they drop.

Arriving in two different silhouettes, the pair come in the colorways white, grey, red, navy blue and black. Both have been incorporated with soft fleece on the inside, hoodie-like laces and sturdy rubber soles for that extra grip. The first design features the label's classic logo stamped all over the upper while the second design highlights the C logo patch in the middle.

Take a detailed look in the gallery above and stay tuned for more details on its release date. In the meantime, check out the Dr. Seuss x Champ collection.
